

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS
MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Farinot (double strength), and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Any one who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—(Adv.)

GERMANY MAKES EARLY START TO CAPTURE TRADE

Organization of Powerful Corporation Backed by Bankers and Manufacturers.

(International News Service.)
Washington, May 7.—The organization of a powerful German corporation, capitalized at 25,000,000 marks and backed by the leading bankers, manufacturers and financiers of the empire, to engage in foreign and domestic enterprises, is reported in a statement issued by the department of commerce.

Evidence of Germany's ambition to get an early start on world trade after the war is shown in the organization, which has announced it will operate through German firms in foreign countries and that branches and subsidiaries will be established for trade representations.

The corporation will finance building operations, construction and maintenance of railroads and street railways, construction of irrigation, harbor and electric plants; factories of every description; the exploitation of plantations and ore fields and the formation of subsidiary companies with subsequent granting of credits. Shares are being subscribed at 110 per cent. by the founders. Among the firms represented on the board of directors is Nord Deutsche bank, Breiden bank, Hamburg-American Line, Warburg & Co., Hugo Stinnes, Ltd., Rheinisch Westphalian Coal syndicate, Krupp, Gruson Works, Friedrich Krupp, German South Sea Islands Trading and Planting company, and Siemens & Shuckert.

EVERY CABARET IN CHICAGO ENDS CAREER

Ordinance Divorcing Intoxicants and Entertainments in Effect at 12:01

Chicago, May 7.—With scarcely a flicker of the white light to mark their passing, cabarets in the city officially ended its existence at 12:01 o'clock last night.

At that hour the new ordinance divorcing intoxicating liquor and entertainment and banning dancing and amusement programs and the remainder will continue serving intoxicating liquor and provide only orchestral music, which is permitted by the payment of a $300 license.

Of the 500 cabarets affected, a few closed their doors for good, more decided to serve drinks and retain dancing and amusement programs and the remainder will continue serving intoxicating liquor and provide only orchestral music, which is permitted by the payment of a $300 license.

SHERWOOD PENSION BILL
GOES TO THE SENATE

Minimum Pension of $25 a Month to Civil War Veterans Passed by the House.

Washington, May 7.—The Sherwood bill granting a minimum pension of $25 a month to civil war veterans was passed by the house Monday, and now goes to the senate.

The house also passed a bill to restore the pension status of widows of Civil war veterans who married after the death of their soldier husbands and who were inadvertently deprived of their pension rights under an act of 1916. It now goes to the senate.

Persons living outside the United States would be prohibited from drawing government pensions under a bill introduced in the house today by Representative Blanton, of Texas. The bill is aimed at veterans of the civil war who have returned to Germany.

DOCTOR SAID TO GET LUNG-VITA

Advised Her to Get Famous

Medicine After She Had Tried Others.

"I had asthma for several years and had doctors and took their medicine, but did not get any relief," says Mrs. Joel Davidson, who lives at 600 1-2 Demonbreun street, Nashville, Tenn., in a statement several days ago.

"I have also tried a number of different remedies with the hope of finding something that would cure me, but none of them did me any good whatever. I would cough and wheeze and suffer agony during an attack. My breath was also short all the time, which made it difficult for me to do anything. Finally my doctor got me to get a bottle of Lung-Vita and take it. I have taken two bottles only, but am now perfectly well. I feel that I cannot praise Lung-Vita enough, for it is certainly a fine medicine for asthma."

Lung-Vita is a harmless compound composed of a syrup made from bark, roots, leaves and oils. It is fine for colds, coughs, asthma, whooping cough, and bronchial troubles. Give it a trial.

Lung-Vita is sold by druggists and dealers.—(Adv.)

ENEMY CANNOT LONGER DELAY
BLOW IF HE HOPES FOR ADVANTAGE

(Associated Press.)

Germany's hopes are still held in check. Neither in Flanders nor in Picardy nor along the important Arras sector has the enemy renewed his attacks in force, and he has not reacted against the gain made north of the Somme by the Austrians, in which more than 200 prisoners were captured.

On both battle fronts, however, the artillery fire has been most intense, and the German attack cannot much longer be delayed if the enemy hopes to take advantage of whatever damage has been done to the allied positions by the heavy bombardments carried out by his guns since the repulse north of Mont Kemmel more than a week ago. The German generals believe the Germans may attack simultaneously on the Flanders front and the northern half of the Somme to below the Avre in Picardy.

American troops in their positions south of the Somme have been subjected to intense artillery fire, the enemy using more than 15,000 shells, mostly gas, in a short period. There have been no signs of a German infantry attack against the Americans, who confidently await the first signs of weakened activity.

A large part of the southern end of the important Arras sector has been taken over by Canadian troops, who also are being visited by a storm of German shells. The Canadians believe the Germans may attack simultaneously on the Flanders, Arras and Amiens fronts in an effort to push the allies back in one mighty blow. The high positions, however, are held by the Germans all along the line.

The Austro-Hungarian blow against the Italian front has not developed. Rome reports only moderate artillery fire along most of the front from Switzerland to the Adriatic, and no infantry activity. The Austrians, however, may be waiting for the most favorable moment to renew the German drive in France.

Today, May 7, is the third anniversary of the sinking of the Lusitania by a German submarine with the loss of 1,275 lives.

TOO WEAK TO HOLD CIGARETTE
AFTER TERM AT GERMAN PRISON CAMP

Beaten With Rifle Butts, Starved in Steam-Heated Rooms, Made to Stand for Hours in Snow, Few Men Survive Tortures.

With the American Army in France, May 7.—A French prisoner who has escaped from Germany made the following statement regarding the experiences of an American prisoner whom he met at Hanover (in Prussia):

"Since he was an unwounded American he was assigned to the prisoners' camp without being selected through the hospital. Weakened by the excess of work imposed on the prisoners working in the salt mines, he was unable to remain long as he was sent back to Hanover."

"I don't remember his name or regiment, but he is a New Yorker and was in one of the first detachments of Americans who occupied the trenches several weeks after their arrival in France."

"He told me that in the three months he worked in the salt mines he lost thirty-three pounds. He was solidly built and had large bones. Apparently he had been strong and vigorous. But when I saw him he was incredibly thin, and so weak he could hardly cross the room in which we were talking without stopping repeatedly and leaning against a piece of furniture or supporting himself against some boxes."

"I don't think the Germans would

(International News Service.)

All indications today were that the next blow that the Germans would strike will be delivered in the Arras sector.

There have been heavy concentrations of German map and guns in that region and the British war office today told of a raid there which was evidently carried out, determining the strength of the German forces.

European military critics have long predicted the Germans would drive on Arras. There are high positions of great strategic importance lying immediately north of the city, and the Germans evidently hope to compel the British to abandon them by a flanking movement on the southern side.

During the eight days that have elapsed since the Germans were badly whipped on the southern end of the Arras front, Von Hindenburg has been shifting his troops and guns and a large part of the fresh concentrations now lie to the east of Arras.

In the meantime these guns have been busy on the Picardy front and gigantic artillery duels have developed along the greater part of this battle line.

The possibility of a doubt's blow—one delivered east of Amiens and the other on the Arras front—grows.

Should this be the case the Americans will be caught in the thick of the fighting, for they are holding an important part of the Picardy front between fifteen and twenty miles south-east of Amiens.

On the Arras front the Canadians will have an important role to play for they have just taken over a sector in that zone and from the development of the past forty-eight hours the Germans are likely to strike against the positions that the Canadians have taken over.

It is a coincidental fact that the Canadians have been put back in the region of Vimy ridge, a strategic position which they captured in the big British offensive on the Arras front last year. Vimy ridge (which lies just northeast of Arras), is evidently one of the objectives against which the Germans are aiming now.

Dr. Knickerbocker again showed his disregard for conventionalities in a sermon Sunday night. He simply knocked the formality out of the occasion with his statement. Walking unconsciously upon the platform, he looked up to the balcony, then said: "Bob Schuler, you and your 'faw' and Joe Marcus come down from up there and hit a tune for me."

"Turning to the audience, he explained that 'Bob' is the tune 'Hister' in Texas. 'Now,' said the preacher, 'everybody from the country will sing. Hold up your hands. Well, if no more than that are from the country, you better look out. Let us sing 'O Ho! I Love Jesus' without music."

He then called for testimonies, when several Texans responded as he called them by name, as well as some others. He urged the audience to speak, for he assured them he would do his best to give the women rights, as his married experience with a red-haired woman had taught him to give a woman what she wants and is determined to have.

"New let us sing 'Jesus, Lover of My Soul' with music," said he. "And we want to take an offering—no, not an offering, but a collection. An offering is taken when nobody puts in more than a dime. You conference delegates put in a dollar. You are here having your expenses paid and living better than at home. Come across. If you put in nine dollar bills, I'll make it ten."

Saves His Dollars.
When the ushers reported only two dollar bills, Dr. Knickerbocker remarked he would not do that. Rev. S. J. Harris, of Florida, quickly arose and said, "No, sir. I'll call your bluff and put in the other seven dollars myself." In making the change $5 was needed and Dr. Knickerbocker stated he would trust Harris for the five. Dr. George S. Sexton, of Washington City, pulled another on the preacher when he arose and exclaimed, "I'll give you another five if you won't give five to Harris." Knickerbocker called Sexton's bluff and told Harris to keep the five.

"I make a prophecy," said the preacher, "Prosperity and hardship will come upon this church after this night. Prosperity to the liberal, hardship to the stingy. Listen to this parable: Two men, one a rich man, contributed one time. Five cents was the rich man's part, a dollar the poor man's. Inside of a week the poor man's rich aunt died, leaving him $30,000. Inside of a month the rich man's mother-in-law visited him for nearly a year. Take warning."

FOOD SITUATION IN GERMANY CRITICAL
Unless Grain Supply of Ukraine Is Seized Conditions Will Grow Worse.

(International News Service.)
Rome, May 7.—Pope Benedict has asked the kaiser to spare Belgium and the Netherlands, which have been ordered seized to be used for the manufacture of German munitions, according to a report received here today.

With the same period in previous years, but as long as the hoarding continues all efforts to meet the shortage probably will be futile.

The English Catholic union, he said, talked of appealing to the holy see, but it did not represent all the Catholics in England, Archbishop Hartly continued.

"If they appeal to the holy see it is not the Irish bishops who will suffer."

The Irish bishops had interfered in the conscription issue, he declared, because conscription raised moral and religious questions.

Remarkably Quiet.
(Associated Press.)
London, May 7.—Ireland remains remarkably quiet, says the Dublin correspondent of the Daily Mail, in reporting on conditions incident to the anti-conscription campaign.

"Although the church is raising," he adds, "an enormous national defense fund, which is ostensibly being collected to fight conscription, it apparently does not prefer to accept responsibility for the movement in which the money is spent and control of the fund has passed into the hands of the Sinn Fein. The lists of names of men, who signed the anti-conscription pledge under the direction of the priests, is said to be in the hands of Sinn Feiners as a basis for a registration system."

"Conditions appear daily to be growing worse as nationalism is being spread further along on the Sinn Fein front. Moderate men of the Irish convention have faded out of public recognition and it is quite obvious that whatever are the government's home rule proposals they will be rejected contemptuously by the bulk of the country and denounced more passionately than was conscription. The shortage of silver continues very acute and difficult in making change has almost paralyzed business in some towns. Postage stamps are being used in the midlands and in the west instead of coin. The Bank of Ireland has received in the past three months a supply of silver five times greater as compared

GIVEN ALL FORMALITY

Famous Texas Preacher Condemns Service at Wesley Memorial

Atlanta, Ga., May 7.—Some uneasiness has been created among older members of the Methodist general conference, in session at the Wesley Memorial church, at the method adopted by H. B. Knickerbocker, of Houston, Tex., the highest salaried preacher in the church, to advance the name of George R. Stuart, of Birmingham, for election as bishop. Conservatives fear that Mr. Knickerbocker's frank card urging Mr. Stuart's election will injure the office and lower its respect.

Mr. Knickerbocker, however, declares that the opposite is true, that his plan of stating his reasons for Mr. Stuart's election, instead of going about and asking personally for votes for his candidate, is sufficiently open and frank to attract the substantial attention of the people to whom it is addressed.

"Old and honored customs are no more," said he. "We are fighting the kaiser and have no time for round-about methods."

Dr. Stuart was asked Monday if he had anything to say in reference to the Knickerbocker card asking for his election to the bishopric, and he replied:

"I was not consulted about the card; did not know any such thing was being done by anybody. I have no criticism of a dear, good friend, whether wisely or unwisely trying to befriended me. I have been a member of the general conference in four of its sessions, including sixteen years. I have never approached any one in reference to the election of any individual to the office of bishop or any other office. I have never approached any human being by letter or word on the subject of the election to the bishopric or to any other office in the life of almost a quarter of a century in the Methodist ministry. I have never approached a presiding elder or a bishop in reference to my appointment. My appointments have all been unsought and accepted without complaint. Nothing could be farther from my past policy or present feelings than publicity on this subject."

Dr. Knickerbocker again showed his disregard for conventionalities in a sermon Sunday night. He simply knocked the formality out of the occasion with his statement. Walking unconsciously upon the platform, he looked up to the balcony, then said: "Bob Schuler, you and your 'faw' and Joe Marcus come down from up there and hit a tune for me."

APPRECIATION OF WORK OF FRENCH GUNNERS
Cases of Rare Old Wine Sent Men Who Knocked Out One of Hun's Long Range Guns.

(International News Service.)
Paris, May 7.—Cases of rare wine have been sent to the French gunners who knocked out one of the German long-range guns which have been bombarding Paris. The municipal council made the gunners a gift of the wine.

The incessant registering of the French shells upon the German gun brought down a heavy fire from German field pieces upon the French artillery. Several French gunners were killed or wounded. French aviators played an important part in the destruction of the big German gun. Despite a great concentration of anti-aircraft guns behind the German line, French airmen swooped down almost to the earth in order to register every shot of the French gunners.

PRESIDENT FILM COMPANY ARRESTED FOR ESPIONAGE
Attempted by Moving Pictures to Show Belgium Devastation Was Represented.

New York, May 7.—Felix Malitz, president of the American Correspondents' Film company, and Gustave Engler, secretary, who were convicted here last week, of conspiring to ship rubber into Germany and of conducting a campaign of pro-German propaganda by attempting to show by moving pictures that the devastation in Belgium was not as great as represented, were sentenced to two years and also fined $5,000. Engler received a sentence of eighteen months. Malitz was severely scored by Judge Manton, who told him that having sworn allegiance to the United States when he took out his first papers, he was entitled to no consideration because of "the despicable propaganda he had been engaged in."

OIL LESSEES DECLARED TO BE FEDERAL AGENTS
Oklahoma State Authorities Restrained From Levying Production Tax on Oil Producers.

Washington, May 7.—Federal court decrees permanently restraining Oklahoma state authorities from levying a gross production tax on oil produced by lessees of Osage Indian oil lands were affirmed Monday by the supreme court. The contention of the lessees, the Gypsy, Indian Territory, Oklahoma and Barnsdall oil companies, that they are in effect federal agents operating the lands for the benefit of the Indians was upheld. More than a million dollars already paid in taxes under protest will now be refunded.

REASSURING MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Washington, May 7.—President Wilson today reassures "a stricken world that our ideals of justice, humanity and liberty shall in the end prevail," in a telegram to state councils of national defense, holding war conferences in many parts of the country today.

The president's message says: "In our fight for the rights of free men the world over, your efforts and the efforts of your fellow citizens are a vital factor."

"Your determination to perform the necessary labor and accept the necessary sacrifice, and the like spirit which has now become manifest throughout our nation, reassures a stricken world that our ideals of justice and humanity and liberty shall in the end prevail."

SINKING OF LUSITANIA
COMMEMORATED BY PRESS

Big Captions and Special Articles Recall Crime Which Will Not Be Forgotten.

(Associated Press.)

London, May 7.—The Lusitania anniversary is commemorated by the British press with big captions and special articles recalling the crime which the British public is not likely to forget.

The Daily Graphic, in an editorial, laments that the public apparently is becoming dulled to the horror of the Lusitania atrocity. It asks why there is not a commemorative procession this year as there was last year. If there is not, it asks, will its absence not be proof of the extent to which Germany's many crimes against humanity have deadened the world's sense of tenderness? It adds:

"It is because the torpedoing of the Lusitania summed up in one cold-blooded act the savage ruthlessness of the German race, that the anniversary of that foul deed should be celebrated when every other commemoration is forgotten."

"Germany has not changed since then," says the Daily Graphic. "That is the important thing for all of us to remember. The 'repentant' Germany of which our pacifists prattle simply does not exist. She still glories in the sinking of the Lusitania and the butchery of women and children and will repeat every other atrocity at the first profitable opportunity."

"That is only one of 100 reasons why the war must go on until she is hampered into sanity."

NEW YORK WIDOW ADOPTS
MOTHERLESS SOLDIER

Had Entertained Deep Affection for His Parents, Who Have Been Dead for Fifteen Years.

New York, May 7.—The desire to send a motherless soldier to the front with a parting memory of a mother's smile was one of the motives that impelled Mrs. Jessie May Burgoyne, a widow of this city, to take out adoption papers for William J. Hays, a Brooklyn boy, in the surrogate's court here Monday. Hays, who is 25 years old, expects to go to the other side with his regiment in a short time.

Mrs. Burgoyne told the surrogate that she had entertained a deep affection for Hays' parents, who have been dead fifteen years, and that it was her duty to send their son away with a mother's smile.
